7.2.1 – Describe at least two institutional best practices

1. Student communication system. • The institution is run by the faculty and its duty is to take care of the academic activities of the students along with the other extracurricular activities. In this regards the communication between the students and the staff is the single most important tool. Introduced a new way of communication through group SMS using social media available. 2. Distribution of the best answer paper to all the students. • Every student wants to be among the best and in our institute we take all the possible measures to ensure this. Every individual has his/her positives and negatives and positives should be encouraged and should show way for improvement. Regarding achieving academic excellence as for as tackling the examination is concerned very little has been done. Selecting the best answer paper and distributing the same to all the students is the first step regarding our aim of improving the academic results. 3. Green and clean campus activities are made continuous in the institution.
